Vol. 7 No.2

Working to Protect The Ojai Valley's Future - Today

Summer 2000

Ojai City Council Member, Steve Olsen shares his love of Besant Meadow with supporters.

Besant Meadow Is Next Target For Protection

In an effort to protect critical open space and expand the Ojai Meadows Preserve, the Conservancy has signed an option agreement to purchase the 25 acre parcel immediately west of the existing Preserve. The property known as Besant Meadow is another high priority acquisition property for the Conservancy and local residents. As early as the 1920's this site was a gathering place for followers of Krishnamurti. During the late 1980's, the property was slated for a 100 condo development, but the community and the County were successful in preventing the development.

The Conservancy will need to raise $660,000 by December 31, 2000 to acquire and preserve the parcel. $450,000 will cover the cost of acquisition and the remaining $210,000 will be for protection, basic care and costs directly associated with the campaign. This project is an integral part of the Conservancy's Campaign To Preserve Ojai's Special Places Forever.

If successful, the Ojai Meadows Preserve will then contain 58 acres of grasslands, oaks, and wetlands between the communities of Ojai and Meiners Oaks. See page 5 for more information on how you can contribute to the Campaign to Expand the Ojai Meadows Preserve.

Two Large Gifts Give Big Momentum To Campaign

A $250,000 challenge gift has been made in memory of Pekka Merikallio, a long time Ojai resident and admirer of Besant Meadow. In order for the Conservancy to use the gift to acquire the property, we must first raise an additional $250,000 from the community to match this generous contribution. If the match is not raised by December 31, 2000, then the gift must be returned. "This is an exciting and very meaningful challenge to our community," said Michael Shapiro, campaign co-chair. "We trust that the same generosity that was shown by our supporters in the recent Ojai Meadows Campaign, will be echoed here." The memorial gift from the Besant Meadow Preservation Group, in the form of a donated house, will be sold and the net proceeds used for the campaign. This is the second contribution of a house to the Conservancy during the last six months. Last fall, the Taormina Theosophical Community, Inc. donated the proceeds from a house sale to launch the acquisition of the 32-acre parcel next to the high school.

A $167,500 contribution was also received from the Ojai Valley Sanitary District as part of a fine for an earlier sewage spill in Canada Larga Creek. The District was required to spend the Supplementary Environmental Project (SEP) funds on a project that benefits the environment in the Ventura River Watershed. The Besant Meadow Project was chosen because of its outstanding opportunities for habitat protection, wetlands restoration, water quality protection, and strong community support. This contribution will not count towards the Merikallio challenge gift because it was announced in early March before the $250,000 contribution was designated.

A Message From Our President

Match

The word has several meanings, but for those of us who love open space the key meaning right now is matching gift.

For many years the Besant Meadow Preservation Group and your Ojai Valley Land Conservancy have dreamed of protecting Besant Meadow as open space in perpetuity. Recently the Besant Meadow Preservation Group made the decision to donate a home on Aliso Street to the Conservancy for the purpose of saving the Meadow. Net proceeds from the forthcoming house sale are expected to yield approximately $250,000 and will be used for the campaign, but only if the community can match this landmark gift.

With the $250,000 from the house sale, the community's match of $250,000, and the Ojai Valley Sanitary District's recent contribution of $167,000, we will be able to purchase Besant Meadow, provide for long term maintenance, and begin restoration. Besant Meadow will become part of the existing Ojai Meadows Preserve and link Ojai to Meiners Oaks with 58 acres of beautiful open space.

We are already working toward joint education programs with the Ojai Unified School District on Ojai Meadows Preserve. Perhaps someday the Besant Meadow side of the Preserve will feature a nature center to maximize the land's educational potential. Perhaps a community garden will emerge. These decisions and others can be made over time.

For now, working together, we must all extend ourselves in order to meet the challenge of the Besant Meadow Preservation Group's extraordinary matching gift.

John Broesamle

Leave A Legacy

Give A Gift For Future Generations Of The Ojai Valley

Please join the nine families and individuals who in 1999 included the Conservancy in their will or trust. Consider the lasting impact of an estate gift for the preservation of the natural and agricultural heritage of the Ojai Valley. Your contribution will be used for:

- Preserving critical open spaces like the Ojai Meadows Preserve
- Restoring important natural habitats
- Educating our youth and community to be better stewards of our open spaces

If you have already named us in your estate plans, let us thank you for your generous gift and welcome you to the Conservation Legacy Circle. For a confidential inquiry about helping to protect the future and beauty of this valley, please contact the Conservancy office at 646-7930.

Conservancy Forges New Trail Agreement

The Conservancy has received a trail easement for a new section of the Fuelbreak Road Trail thanks to the cooperation of land owners, the Konig Family, and the U.S. Forest Service. We also thank the Alliance for Public Trail Access, who directed the easement to the Conservancy. The agreement will allow public access for the first time in four years to this popular route near Gridley Road. The new trail construction is being paid for by the Conservancy, Andrew and Judith Gustafson and the Konigs, while the dedicated youth of The C.R.E.W. perform the hard work. May 20 is the targeted day for opening the new public route and volunteers will have the opportunity to help complete the last section of trail across US. Forest Service land. Please call the Conservancy for the latest information on the trail opening.

Education Agreement Signed With School District

The Ojai Unified School District has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Conservancy to encourage programs and projects that enrich students' learning experiences and offer valuable assistance with the restoration of the Ojai Meadows Preserve. Students from elementary to high school will assist with the restoration of the sites' natural landscapes, develop brochures about the Preserve and create works of art which can be used for raising funds for the restoration efforts. Classes will also use the site as an outdoor classroom for science, art and writing. "This is a great chance for our children to learn about their community, natural environment and themselves," says Gwen Gross, Superintendent of Schools.

UCSB To Design Restoration Plan

The Bren School of Environmental Science and Management at UC Santa Barbara has agreed to provide a team of graduate students to study the Ojai Meadows Preserve and then develop a habitat restoration plan for the site. Students will work with Conservancy experts and students from Nordhoff High School to evaluate the feasibility of restoring the wetlands and oak woodlands to enhance wildlife habitat and educational opportunities. The plan will take approximately one year to complete.

New Website Up And Running

A completely redesigned website is now available at www.ovlc.org and offers information on how to protect open space, background on the Conservancy's Preserves, the latest on our fundraising campaigns, upcoming events, and other exciting news. Members who provide the office with their e-mail address will receive notice of the latest changes to the site. "We plan to keep the site fresh and offer the latest news about our open space efforts before it appears in the newspaper," said Jim Engel, Executive Director.

Burrell Added To Conservancy Team

Ronda Burrell has joined the Conservancy as the new Membership Services Coordinator. Her key responsibilities are to keep the membership database current, prepare renewal and acknowledgment letters and answer questions from our members and the public about the Conservancy and its activities. Ronda brings strong organization and people skills to the job. Ronda, her husband Dave, and their two children moved to Ojai from Bellflower last November. "Ojai is the kind of place we've always dreamed of living," exclaimed Ronda. She replaces Linda Solomon who managed the membership and event services for the past year.

Volunteers Lend A Helping Hand

“I never knew this was here,” exclaimed Carol Garramone. “I’ve always just driven past this land. I had no idea what a great place this is.” Garramone is one of the people who showed up March 25 at the Ojai Meadows Preserve for a volunteer orientation and training. During the half day of activities, volunteers learned how to be Preserve Hosts and care for the large Valley Oaks on the property.

The Conservancy plans to develop a dedicated group of volunteers who will walk the trails, talk to visitors, observe wildlife and report back their findings. This will assist Preserve management and protect its valuable resources for the enjoyment of the public. During the coming months, Allison Leete, volunteer/education coordinator will be seeking new volunteers who are interested in lending a helping hand.

Contact Allison at 646-4108 if you want to learn more about how you can help with the volunteer opportunities listed below:

On February 26, over 100 members of the Conservancy's Conservation Legacy Circle (CLC) met to toast last year's successful open space efforts and to review this year's exciting plans, including the campaign to expand the Ojai Meadows Preserve. The Ranch House Restaurant hosted the event on a beautiful warm winter day and guests enjoyed a delightful array of food and wine graciously donated by the restaurant. CLC members have made significant financial, volunteer or other commitments to open space in the Ojai Valley. If you are interested in learning more about how to become part of CLC, please call the Conservancy office.

Help Meet the Challenge

Sign Unveiled at Site of Ojai's Newest Park

On Friday, April 14 a large group of interested community members gathered at the recently purchased half acre property at Ojai Avenue, El Paseo, and Rincon to hear about the plans for the site from Conservancy officials and local political and community leaders. Sheila and Don Cluff, who contributed over $200,000 to the acquisition of the parcel, also spoke about their vision for the site.

Sheila and Don Cluff urge the community to join the campaign to create Ojai's Newest Park.

architect will be hired to initiate the planning process which will include community input. "This site won't be your typical city park," comments Jim Engel, executive director. The site design will encourage visitors to take a rest from the hustle and bustle of everyday life and reflect on the beauty of the Ojai Valley. The Land Conservancy will begin the fundraising campaign in July when the site design has passed the mid-way point toward completion.

Campaign Launched

On February 26, over 70 people listened as community and political leaders expressed their support for the Besant Meadow Campaign. Rikki Horne, Ojai School Board Member, Steve Olsen, Ojai City Council Member and State Assemblymember Hannah Beth Jackson all spoke to the audience about how the project would greatly improve the quality of life for Ojai Valley residents.

Campaign co-chairman and Conservancy President, John Broesamle reminded the crowd that the success of the Ojai Meadows Campaign depended on the strong support of the community. "Close to 80% of the funding came from local individuals and businesses," said Broesamle. "And we will need this kind of support again, if we are going to be successful."

This hands-on educational conference is a cooperative project between the Conservancy and the Ojai Unified School District.

Parents, youth and other interested community members will also have an opportunity to learn more about the Preserve and this outstanding program on Saturday, June 24. Visit www.ovlc.org in June for more details about the event.
